Westchester Independence Party endorses Hayworth

The Westchester Independence Party, which in 2008 backed Rep. John Hall, has endorsed Dr. Nan Hayworth, the Republican, for Congress in New York's 19th District.

The announcement Thursday came from Dr. Giulio Cavallo, chairman of the Westchester Independence Party County Committee. The Independence Party will be on Line C of the ballot in the 19th. The endorsement is important because anyone who is not a party member needs the approval of the state party chairman to run on that line.

Hayworth last month secured the Republican endorsement in a 5 to 1 victory at the Party's District convention. She has also been endorsed by the District's Conservative Party committees.

Hayworth's driving philosophy is that the freedoms established in our Constitution created the economic opportunities that have made Americans the most prosperous people in history. Her mission is to allow the citizens of District 19 keep more of what they work so hard to earn; to reduce their federal taxes; and to shrink the size and scope of the government so that we can spend, invest, and create jobs in our own communities. She has pledged to work for repeal and replacement of the new health law, and to bring her perspective as a physician to bear in developing alternatives that meet the needs of Americans without nationalizing health care.

Hayworth is a lifelong Republican and fiscal conservative. She and her husband, Scott, also a physician, live in Bedford with their two sons, Will and Jack.
