Hayworth picks up Conservative and Independence nominations

Dr. Nan Hayworth has received both the Conservative Party and Independence Party nominations for the 19th District in Congress, which will give her three lines on this fall's ballot against Congressman John Hall.

The news of the two additional lines is a significant asset to Hayworth. In 2008, Hall received about 10 percent of his votes from the Independence line.

"Our superb campaign team, together with hundreds of friends and supporters, worked very hard with me to win the confidence of our colleagues in the Conservative and Independence Parties, and I am deeply honored to be their nominee in District 19," said Hayworth of the news. "I'll do my utmost to win the District for the cause we share."

Hayworth won the overwhelming support of District 19 Republicans at their nominating convention in May.

Hall, a Democrat, won election in 2006 and consistently votes with House Speaker Nancy Pelosi.

Hayworth is a strong fiscal conservative who believes that reviving the private-sector economy and growing jobs, while restraining government spending, are critical to moving the country forward. Hayworth, who is a physician, also proposes that the new health care law be repealed and replaced with solutions that are cost-effective and consumer-responsive, allowing Americans to have affordable and portable access to the quality, choice, and innovation they expect and deserve.
