The maximum an individual may contribute is $2,400 for the primary election plus $2,400 for the general election, equaling a total maximum contribution of $4,800. Please make contributions for the primary and general elections separately, as the website will process a maximum of $2,400 at one time. However, both the primary and general election contributions can be made in succession on the same day. Couples may contribute a total of $4,800 in the primary election plus $4,800 in the general election, for a total of $9,600, even if only one spouse has income. Husband and wife must each make separate contributions for each election ($2,400 for the primary election and $2,400 for the general election, for a total of $4,800) in their own name. As noted above, the website will process a maximum of $2,400 at one time, so the primary and general election contributions must be made separately, and can be made in succession on the same day. Qualified PACs may contribute $10,000 ($5,000 to be allocated to the primary election and $5,000 to be allocated to the general election). Corporate contributions are prohibited by federal law. Contributions are not deductible for federal income tax purposes.
